

Temple Update Anchor Audition Script

For your anchor audition, please write a news brief that includes at least three items and that will take about one minute to read. Your script can include news, sports and weather items. If you are mostly interested in anchoring sports, you can include more sports items. If you are primarily interested in weather, you can include more of a forecast.

IMPORTANT: E-MAIL YOUR SCRIPT TO templeupdate@gmail.com by 5:00pm WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 7, so we can put it in the teleprompter in time for your audition on Thursday.
PUT "ANCHOR SCRIPT" IN YOUR SUBJECT LINE. Attach script as a .doc or put in body of e-mail(no PDFs, please)

SCRIPT EXAMPLE (from Spring 2017):

Good morning, I'm _____, and this is a Temple Update News Brief.

Temple University has settled its suit with former provost Hai Lung Dai. Court documents filed by Dai last fall named the university and Theobald as defendants in the suit. A Temple spokesman confirmed the university offered an undisclosed amount of money to Dai. The former provost will now serve as Vice President of International Affairs.

New Year, new name:

The university's School of Media and Communication will soon be called the Lew Klein College of Media and Communication. It's named in honor of TV pioneer and former Channel Six program director Lew Klein. Klein taught at Temple for more than sixty years. The university is planning an official dedication this spring.

In Sports...

Temple Basketball lost a heartbreaker Monday to the Cincinnati Bearcats, 81-74. Despite one of the team's best offensive performances of the season, they couldn't keep the Bearcats from getting to the rim. The team is set to face-off against Memphis at the Liacouras Center Wednesday.

Now to weather...

Cold temperatures...not this week. High of fifty-six today..but Careful out there as you make your way around campus. We're tracking showers all day. Friday is looking beautiful with sunny skies and a high of forty-six degrees. But over the weekend we'll see a drop back into the thirties.

More coming up on Temple Update Thursday at ten. I'm _____, have a great day.
